INDIANA NEWS.

A company has organized

at Indianapolis for the construction of a road from that city to Hagerstown, Md.

The figures were $50 to $60

for choice horses.

Seventy-five thousand sheep have been slaughtered at Indianapolis in the present season. They were then shipped to the West, where they were sold at a profit of $100 to $150

per head.

Major Caven, of Indianapolis, has contracted for five hundred cords of wood for the needy families of that city, to be paid for by order.

In a case involving a personal difficulty between Capt. C. J. Caven and Lieut. J. M. Caven, in which the latter was charged with being unlawfully absent from duty, the court has rendered a verdict in favor of the latter.

The Indianapolis Sentinel of Tuesday says:

"The strike for higher wages in this city is likely to be a success. The business men have been receiving $1.50 per day. They demand now

$2.00 per day. The business men are

MADISONVILLE, Ky., Nov. 10, 1863.

To the Editors of the Louisville Journal:

The importance of my subject, I hope,

will warrant a sufficient space in your valuable paper. Some years ago, even before I came to reside in this section of country, a railroad was projected from Madisonville to the mouth of the Tennessee river, with the intention to connect it with the Louisville and Nashville road. From appearance, a vast amount of money must have been spent, for a great deal of work was performed. The road was cut and graded, I believe, entirely through the wilderness. It was not, however, completed. It was somehow abandoned. It was

A horse, with a negro saddle of him, and on his back, at full speed, yesterday, striking terror into the hearts of those who witnessed the fearful scene. No one, however, seemed inclined to contest the right of the animal and its rider to a free and unobstructed passage. At every bound, we expected to see the negro dashed against one of the trees on the street and killed, but, fortunately, the horse kept the middle of the walk, until they reached First street, when an obstacle in the shape of a pair of steps, terminated the wild and furious flight of the steed. The negro was thrown off in a very gentle manner, and, strange to say, neither the horse nor rider was seriously injured. The horse, not knowing the ropes of the city, and as might be expected, became unmanageable when he took fright. Had there been any children or old people on the sidewalk, they would, no doubt, have lost their lives. Such animals should never be ridden through the streets of our city without a bridle, and it would be no more than right if a fine was imposed for an offense of this kind.

"SKEW COMING OF CHRIST"—By J. C. Walker.—This is a new book just from the house of John P. Morton & Co., of this city. Mr. Walker is a citizen of Louisville, and a son of the late George Walker, known all over the world as a Kentucky preacher, and a pioneer preacher. The work is well gotten up, has a fine steel engraved portrait of the author.

It is written in a plain, though forcible style, setting forth topics of momentous import and thrilling interest. The book treats of the Fall and Recovery of Man; the Personal Premillennial Coming of Christ; the Premillennial Resurrection of the Righteous Dead; the early Restoration of the Jews to their own land; the Millennium Kingdom; the Signs of the Times; and Chronological Calculations of the Prophecies of Daniel and Revelations, showing that the present age is the beginning of the millennium, and that the advent of Christ is near at hand.

At this time such a work must demand a very large sale. See the advertisement.

LOUISVILLE THEATRE.—The performance last night on the occasion of Miss Keene's benefit, reminded us of the palmy days of the theatre here. From first to last, it was the last performance of the season. Nor did the merit belong alone to one. All the actors were to excellent in their respective parts that it would be impossible to particularize. Space alone prevents us from making an elaborate and appreciative notice of each of them. The stage itself was newly and tastefully decorated in all its appointments. Performances such as those of last night are a credit alike to actors and manager. We regret they are not more frequent.

To night, a very attractive bill is presented, consisting of Rachel the Reaper and the Foster Mother, in both of which Miss Keene appears to great advantage.

We are credibly informed that W. Jenkins, Esq., who has been acting as Quartermaster in this department, has been relieved from duty. A more faithful, honest, and competent officer is not in the employ of the Government, and we are astonished that the Government, which is waiting honest and capable officers, should dispense with his services at this time. If faithfulness to his Government is a badge of honor, and if the Government is to be a badge of honor, then Jenkins, who has been always a faithful soldier, should not be removed from duty with such an officer, and we hope to see him soon reinstated.

WON'T THEATRE.—Mr. Proctor was greeted last evening with a large and respectable audience, who fully appreciated his great merits as a tragedian. The performance of "The Merchant of Venice" was a triumphantly successful one. The play was a hard one to the fame of the eminent actor. The thrilling drama of "The Duke and the Duke's Daughter" was the evening's feature, and all who witnessed the performance of one of the greatest tragedies of the day, should avail themselves of this last opportunity they may ever have.

GRAND MATINEE.—This afternoon the unrivalled St. Denis Revels give grand matinee at Masonic Temple. The performance of Prof. Mott on the violin is truly astonishing. He is unquestionably one of the best violinists of this or any other age, and such is the verdict of all who have heard him. The juggling and light-rope dancing by the pretty French Mademoiselle are performances that are rare indeed. This troupe have won golden opinions from the public during their brief stay with us.

CHOICE ENGRAVINGS.—J. V. Escholt has now a collection and for sale a large collection of the finest engravings, both plain and colored. We are constantly hearing of the collection of the art will find among them specimens of the highest character after Fied, Ross Bonheur, Turner, Landseer, Dolby, and other celebrities.

This is a rare chance to get something really good, as pictures of such a character were never before offered for sale in Louisville.

At no period since the rebellion broke out has there been so many desertions of Kentucky soldiers from the ranks of the enemy as at present. We are constantly hearing of the soldiers returning to their homes, in the old adjoining counties, willing to take the oath, or do anything else, so that they may be allowed to remain. Five reached the little town of Walton, Boone county, in one day last week, and they report large numbers of others on the way.

COAT.—The whole amount of coal shipped from Pittsburgh on Friday and Saturday is estimated at 1,000,000 bushels. Some of the large boats, it is apprehended, may receive considerable quantities from points outside of Pittsburgh. But there must be more than a full supply is obtained. If the present rate extends to Pittsburgh we will shortly have coal in abundance.

THE CHIEFS of Covington and Keaton county held a meeting yesterday evening for the purpose of considering the present condition of the Union prisoners of war in the rebel lines, and making arrangements for filling the quota of the Sixth Congressional District, under the President's and Governor's proclamations. The meeting was addressed by Gen. Green Clay Smith, Lieut. Geo. Fisk, and others.

FOUNDLING.—An infant about two weeks old was found in a lot in the lower part of the city a few moments since, and it is supposed was left there by a mother who had been exercising of the world. The little cherub was alive and kicking when found, and will be kindly cared for by the good people who have it in charge.

YESTERDAY was dull and disagreeable. It rained incessantly throughout the day. The streets are almost always with mud, and many of the crossings are in wretched condition. We hope we will soon be able to report "dry terape" in the city.

The presentation of a flag to the 31 Kentucky battery, by the ladies of Louisville, will be postponed until Monday evening, November 23d, at 8 o'clock P. M., at Colonel Mandy's headquarters.

A large number of rebel prisoners passed through the city last evening, en route to Camp Chase.

An immense drove of mules from Indiana passed through the city yesterday for the Government service.

No arrests were made by either the military or civil authorities yesterday.

We call the following Covington items from the Cincinnati Enquirer of Friday:

Returned Rebel Prisoners.—The following returned rebel prisoners have been arrested in this vicinity recently, and are now in charge of the military authorities: John Porter, Grant county; Francis A. Hill, Grant county; Thomas Gilbert, Owen county; John Rogers, Owen county; John C. Greer, Paducah county; Benjamin A. Taylor, residence not known.

Giving Aid and Comfort to the Enemy.—Tobias Rose, a citizen of Harrison county, army, Edward Southgate, another who was taken prisoner a short time ago, has been released from Camp Douglas and is now in Newport.

The Military Commission which convened in this city, and of which Maj. T. S. Matthews was president, met yesterday for the purpose of considering the case of John Jones and Alex. Towley, of their liberty, and their removal to the military authorities for the purpose of having them delivered to the enemies of freedom. The sentence of the Court is that Oler be confined at hard labor, for the period of twelve months, at such place as the Commanding General of the Department may direct.
